

Fábio Salgado

public policy, culture and digital products

I work in three rooms at once: where decisions are made, where fado is sung, and where the code is written.

I split my time between Alfama, in Lisbon, and Ribeira Branca, in Torres Novas. I was born in Nazaré.

I build together with Claude, among other tools — this included. Everything is listed below.

PROJECTS

primeiraplateia.pt

2016 - ongoing

founder and maker · product

Portugal's cultural agenda in one place: over 1,500 events on show, across 77 venues in 33 municipalities — every district and autonomous region.

Filter by day, by free admission and by accessibility. Follow artists and venues. Weekly newsletter.

Born in 2016 as EmCena.pt, a listings site for Lisbon theatre. Renamed and relaunched in 2026, now nationwide.

A pipeline of my own collects and normalises the listings, venue by venue; the final pass is mine.

I founded it, I run it, I built it.

Fado: curation, production and programming.

Named after Maria Severa Onofriana. Four formats: Severa, Mariquinhas, Guitarradas and Vimioso.

We represent artists and put on the concerts. Record releases, now and then.

Artistic curation by Marta Rosa.

I co-founded it and I produce it; the site is mine too.

A golfer's path, season by season: WAGR and European rankings, partnerships, press and WITB.

The rankings keep themselves up to date: by API where there is one, by scraping the page where there is not.

I designed it and built it.

martarosa.pt

site author

The site of a fado singer who writes what she sings: calendar, discography, press kit and booking.

Voice, fado viola, and her own lyrics.

I designed it and built it.

travertina.casa

product author

2026 – ongoing · private

A house run like a company: calendar and tasks, contacts and contracts, wallet and cash flow, credit, utilities, taxes, shopping and transport.

Construction module: chapters by phase, budget versus paid, expense log and per-room sheets.

It reaches outside through APIs: weather, wildfire risk, automations and alerts.

Private application, behind authentication — no public link. The screenshots show demo data.

I designed it and built it, module by module.

Selling fado experiences in Lisbon: six houses, chosen by someone who lives in Alfama.

Booking goes through the experience platforms that sell the city.

I chose the houses, designed the site and built it.

Multi-tenant point of sale for events and fundraising: order slips, tables, consumption cards and kitchen tickets.

It was born inside event production, to solve a real bar counter.

Private application, behind authentication — no public link.

I designed it and built it; it's in use by a community organisation.

Personal site and project archive: one data source and several outputs — page, PDFs, resume.json and a zip — with a battery of checks before every release.

Open source. Built together with Claude, among other tools.

ATREVIA

I follow the Portuguese legislative and regulatory process and design the response: whom to talk to, when, and with what.

From advice to delivery, for clients across sectors — regulation, institutional relations, communication with decision-makers.

I map who decides and who influences, working with teams across disciplines.
